

Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 31 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Mostly cloudy, with patches of drizzle and some afternoon sunshine.

Today:

A cloudy morning. Some light rain or drizzle over high ground, becoming dry as some sunny spells develop from the north. Cool under the cloud, but warmer in the sunnier gaps between. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:

A cool and largely cloudy evening, with the clearest skies found in the far west. Low cloud over hills, bringing light rain and drizzle through the early morning. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Wednesday:

Another cloudy day, with clearer skies in the far north and west, bringing the highest temperatures. Isolated light rain further south and east, turning drier by afternoon but remaining murky. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:

Generally cloudy but dry conditions continuing, with some sunny spells scattered throughout. Drizzle still possible over higher ground. Feeling warm in the sunshine, but a few chilly nights ahead.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.